MESSAGE #2606

Ann Marie Gordon doesn't really certify all those simulator solutions. If you look in the file you'll find a grammatigram with her name on it, but if you also check over the years of where she really was on the days that those things were certified you'll find once in a while she was in DC or Alaska, or somewhere else. She had somebody else do it and then she'll sign the forms that says, under penalty of perjury I analyzed this. If you don't think that's a big deal just think what Francisco Duarte would think of that.
